Rombo rug

Designed by Studio MLR

Rombo is characterised by the materials used in the rugs. The combination of wool and jute creates a robust surface. The woven construction forms small, distinctive rhombi patterns, which the series is named after. At either end of the rug, straight lines encase the rug creating an elegant contrast between the colours and patterns.

With a meticulousness and profound textile knowledge, the studio develops collections and designs rooted in Scandinavian culture, design-language and colour-view.

Danish text

Rombo er en serie af tæpper, der er karakteriseret af materialevalget. Med en kombination af uld og jute får serien Rombo en robust overflade. Den vævede konstruktion skaber et særpræget mønster med små romber, som serien er opkaldt efter. Tæppernes ender afsluttes med striber på linjer, som skaber en elegant kontrast mellem farverne og mønstret. Rombo kommer som et lille og stort tæppe samt en løber.

Designet af Studio MLR

Studio MLR er et dansk tværfagligt designstudie med tekstiler, farver og trends som deres ekspertiseområde. Designeren bag studiet, Marie-Louise Rosholm, har i de sidste tredive år drevet sit eget studie, først i Milano og nu i København. Med en omhyggelighed og dyb tekstilindsigt udvikler studiet kollektioner og design forankret i skandinavisk kultur, designsprog og farvetendenser.
